We now have a Tech Trek Alumni group -They call themselves STEM - Sensational Team (of) Extraordinary Minds!

by Barbara Douyon, with Joann Nixon, Marie Lavoie, and Karen Chiechi

The very first Tech Trek Alumni meeting was held Wednesday evening, January 16, at the Round Table Pizza Parlor. All of our Tech Trek campers of 2017 & 2018 were invited with their parents. Attending were: L to R Standing: Natalie Buzzini, Chloe Nguyen, Abi Thompson, Neena Judge (speaker), Malena Childers; Seated: Lydia Donaldson, Latoya Green, Larissa Fecue. All of the girls were 2018, except Malena who was a 2017 Tech Trekker.

The task for the campers was to create an identifying name for themselves, and to brainstorm projects and activities they might like to do together during the year. They took their "assignment" seriously, advancing and rejecting one acronym after another. Eventually, a consensus was reached. Their club will officially be known as STEM – Sensational Team (of) Extraordinary Minds.

The girls are anxious to broaden their own interests and offer service to others. Before the meeting adjourned a special guest, Neena Judge, (4th from left in photo) who was a Tech Trekker in 2013, spoke about her various experiences during and after her own Tech Trek camp adventure, especially since she has been a Junior Tech Trek counselor at a Tech Trek camp since she attended as a Tech Trek camper. Neena is now attending Sonoma State University. She patiently answered questions, offered advice and continuing support for the Tech Trek alumni.

Council Chat: January 19, 2019

by Joann Nixon Executive Council Leader

The January 19 Branch meeting was a great way to start the year. We met in the very spacious Ettl Hall with table cloths and flowers, thanks to our members who came early and did the set up. Jennifer Hougan, Community Memorial Museum Director and Curator, (shown here with Lee Jones) gave an interesting presentation about her education and work history having worked at museums in different parts of the country. She has been here for three years and sees exciting things happening with the Museum. Currently they are undergoing renovation inside, updating displays, and new signage is planned to be more visible in the community. She considers the greater Marysville, Yuba City and surrounding area “the Community” and has many ideas and projects planned to highlight this outstanding gem in the area. Chef Salim catered a wonderful lunch as usual. We had a large attendance of members, guests and people who saw the meeting information published. I hope you can plan to attend on February 16 when Preet Didbal, Past Mayor of Yuba City will be our speaker.

THIS IS WHAT WE LIKE About being in AAUW –

Recently we asked some of our members why they like being in AAUW. The following are five-minute impromptu writings by members of the Talking on Paper writing group. Can you identify the writers by their first names and story content?

I like the idea of women supporting other women and especially young girls; the Tech Trek in particular is a very good way to get talented young girls to go in the right direction. Also, the community and even developing friendships are very much appreciated. Different programs, like the Garden Tour, Traveling Gourmet, the writing group and the Bridge group are very nice ways to get like-minded women together. Lisa

As I faced retirement there were easily five reasons for me to choose and enjoy membership in AAUW. I knew that women had power; I'd seen it often enough growing up in the South, and when I attended a women's college in the mid-west. I knew I had to remain engaged and energized with purposeful activities. I knew that, being one of 8% African American, living in a small agricultural community, wherever I went, I'd most likely provide some degree of ethnic diversity. Finally, I knew that working with women and young girls, and having a platform to share my writing, AAUW was the right fit for me. These are only a few reasons I enjoy being a member. Barbara

What do I like about AAUW? When I moved to this area in 2002, I knew I wanted a woman's group. At first I joined the local Soroptimist club, which is a group for business and professional women who meet weekly. But when I geared down my business, and tired of the weekly meetings, I looked again, and my friend Barbara McCarty invited me to join AAUW. It has filled my needs for socialization and volunteering. I enjoy the women very much and especially enjoy the fact that we help girls understand the value of education through Tech Trek, STEM Conference and college scholarships. AAUW is a good fit for me. Artis

When I first arrived after marriage in the Marysville-Yuba City area from the Bay Area over 60 years ago, I joined the local chapter of the League of Woman Voters. When that club dissolved after many years I searched for another like-minded group and found it in the AAUW. Inquiring minds need to know! I enjoy the Talking on Paper group for when thoughts are written it develops clarity and deliberation. There is no limit on subject matter and the expanse is wide open. Who can ask for more? Miriam

Why did I join the AAUW? First AAUW was something I saw a friend involved in many years ago. But at that time I never dreamed I would attend college. When I moved here my massage therapist told me of Artis Buerki who was going to the same therapist, and she told Artis about me. You know how personal a massage can get. Secondly, Kelly Swanson belongs to an organization that I also attended - she suggested I go to an AAUW meeting. The rest is obvious. In my old age here I am, where I really am so very happy to be. June

A good friend saved my life when she gave me an AAUW application, and introduced me to the Interest Groups and monthly speakers that our branch has to offer. The members have been such a blessing for me, and I especially relate to the Talking on Paper writing group. I now feel that many of them are my friends. They are wonderful women with great hearts. Colleen

I joined AAUW in Yuba City because I could find no other group that I was compatible with in this area and I have found long-time friendships in AAUW. After we moved here from the Bay Area, I finished up my Degree in English at Sac State, and joined AAUW when I was about 50; and although younger than most, found them broadminded and willing to listen to different ideas. Now that I am older, I love being in the writing group and my book groups. Yes, I am glad I joined. Tessa

I am at a time in my life where I would like to become more active in the community and find a way to funnel my discontent at certain misogynist leaders to better the lives of women and girls. I have attended the AAUW Garden Tour for many years and was aware of AAUW in an abstract way, but it wasn't until recently that a confluence of events occurred that made me hope by joining AAUW I could empower women. I believe that science and education are two of society's most important issues and suddenly I felt I was living in a world where science was a hoax, education was to be controlled and women were to be referred to by every demeaning name in the book. I am hoping that my contributions to AAUW can make the world a better place. Gwyn

When I retired from teaching in Butte County, I knew it was time for me to establish some new connections and friendships in Yuba City, the community I lived in but didn't know very well. I have loved the opportunities for personal growth provided by my book groups and more recently by my writing group. Being part of the Tech Trek committee has been very gratifying because I completely believe in its mission. I always enjoy the speakers, food and company at our monthly general meetings. Donna

Having returned to Yuba City after an absence of 12 years, I needed an outlet. Boy, did I get involved with AAUW! The Executive Committee was pleased when I offered to instigate a writing group. The group quickly budded and flowered into 10 inspired writers. AAUW has many interest groups and projects for members to pursue and each group broadens its members' experiences with new-found knowledge. If I was 20 years younger, I'd investigate AAUW activities outside of Marysville and Yuba City. The larger AAUW organization schedules conventions and pursuits beyond our own community in which we can continue to help girls and women. It is certainly a worthwhile organization for women who qualify; I am sorry for my friends who don't. Joan

The members of Writing on Paper writing group wish you a Happy Valentine's Day.

Call to Order by Janet Theiss, substituting for Joann Nixon Minutes of December 13th meeting were approved with a correction relating to the $100 value of the basket that Lundberg donated to the Coalition brunch.

Council Leader Report: no report

Nominating Committee report. Artis Buerki said that the Nominating Committee (Linden Reynolds, Kelly Swanson, and herself) wish to report that ELECTION is March 16. Our Executive Council terms are staggered so that only 2 or 3 of our officer's terms end each year. Carol Clark and Joann Nixon complete their present terms the end of June, and do not wish to run for reelection at this time. Treasurer Sandy Davini is running for reelection since the Treasurer's position is a one-year term. Nominees for the openings on the Executive Council for 3-year terms beginning July 1, 2019 are Liz Skelly, and one more is needed. Nominations will be accepted from the floor at the March 16 branch Annual Meeting and luncheon at Yuba College, and if you are interested in becoming an Executive Council leader please contact Artis, Linden, or Kelly. As we have no April meeting this year because of STEM Conference, our election is one month earlier than usual. .Artis indicated that our guests, Linda Protine, and Yvonne Pierre are interested in becoming Members at Large, and they were welcomed.

Treasurer's Report: Sandy Davini gave a substantive update to current Treasurer's report. She indicated that we had received some major donations, including from the Yuba County Office of Education and from the Sutter County Office of Education, as well a donation from Joan Young in honor of Jean Jacuzzi, a member who had recently passed away. In addition, we have begun to receive donations from various organizations in relation to the Garden Tour program. Our insurance costs for the STEM conference have increased. Jeanine Rounds moved and Carol Clark seconded the motion to approve report/Motion passed.

Public Policy: Martha Bunce indicated considerable concern about changes to Title IX by the Department of Education that will change the level of protection for women in colleges/universities who have been sexually assaulted; she indicated that AAUW is very opposed to the change as it puts women more at risk.

Membership: Lee Jones indicated concern in the three members we have lost in the past few months: Bernice Higdon, Ruth Anthony, and recently Jean Jacuzzi. AAUW provides $50 for each member to our Sutter County Library for the purchase of books that would have been of interest to those members. She also encouraged our committee to continue to try to bring in new members.

Other reports from Executive Council: Bylaws Update: Karen Tuttle said no business this month.

Communications. Janet Theiss Feather Vane: next issue: a reminder that Artis would like information by 1/21. Artis also said that Katherine Jankowski is doing an excellent job of getting information about our monthly meetings in the area newspapers; also our Facebook viewers are growing.

Programs: Barbara Solheim: Our January 19th meeting will be at the Museum; unfortunately, the museum is undergoing major reconstruction, but arrangements will be made to assure we have the space we need. Jeanine said she contacted Salim about the menu, and the main dish will be lasagna. Speaker will be the museum director. The February meeting speaker will be Preet Didbal, and meeting will be at the Adventist/Rideout Conference Center on Plumas.

Projects: STEM –Sandy Davini and Barbara Solheim said that the Committee met earlier today and things are going well. Martha Bunce is still looking for speakers, and members are encouraged to contact her regarding possibilities. The STEM meeting is scheduled at Yuba College for April 2 due to the late holiday return of YCUSD. Garden Tour - Date will be May 4. Martha Bunce reported that we currently have 8 gardens, and some will be in Yuba County as well as Sutter County. Tech Trek - Carol Clark attended the coordinating meeting in Sacramento on January 6; no branch will be allowed to send more than 6 students. Carol met earlier this week with several members of our team to get our process organized. Much of the information this year will be emailed to the schools. Dr. Karen Chiechi sent the preliminary information to the teachers in December. The recommendations are due from the teachers by February 8, and the essays will be due by 2/22. We will need to meet and review the initial essays on February 27 and make our final selection on March 6. Because Carol must start her work at the schools on February 1, a great deal of support is needed. Donna Long will host the essay review meetings. Scholarship - Jeanine Rounds said she had not yet heard from the college about any changes.

Other Business: Interbranch - Janet Theiss reminded us about the meeting in Chico on February 2. She will write an article about the event for the upcoming Feather Vane. Jeanine Rounds and Carol Clark plan to attend. Concern was expressed about AAUW members who were seriously impacted in the disastrous fire in Paradise, and donations may be made. Historian - No report. Sunshine - Chris Billeci is having surgery, and Gretchen Cupp will be notified to send a card.

Travel Group: Jeanine said that Edna Smyth will be giving a presentation on Israel at the Rounds' house on Tuesday, February 5 at 2 pm. A new calendar keeper for this group is very much needed, as more interest in needed to keep it active. Meeting adjourned at 2:25.

Respectfully submitted, Jeanine Rounds, Secretary
